Graduates At The Workshop

The 19th Annual Workshop in the Word was a success in several ways. There were 114 men present for the event, the material on Acts was well received, the food was outstanding, and we were privileged to see 9 graduates along with 2 of our current interns attending.

It is always good to see the men return who have come through our training program. We are able to visit briefly with them and hear of their successes and problems they encounter.

This year, Greg Garso, who preaches for the church in Laramie, Wyoming delivered the Wednesday address on the topic of "Equipping the Saints." It was a good lesson from a good preacher. Also, Chris Macy and Mark Collins came early in the week in order to assist us in making the preparations for the workshop. We could not do this event without their help. They also stayed after the workshop until everything was cleaned up and put back in order.

We look forward to seeing some of these men return in August for our Graduate Reunion Workshop.

What's Going On...

Erick Crump has been gone about a month talking with congregations about the possibility of his working with them in his first ministry.

David Malley and Jess Simpson were a lot of help in getting things ready for our recent Workshop in the Word. They have now joined the ranks of every other man who has come through our program who "volunteer" themselves for slave labor during the workshop. David and Jess are also busy with their weekly assignments and are taking turns in preaching the afternoon sermon. David also filled in at Pagosa Springs recently in the absence of their preacher and will be preaching in Bayfield on May 19. These are great opportunities for our students.

I was exhausted after the workshop, so Mary and I took a week's vacation and visited our daughters and grandchildren in Dallas. We had a great time in the Lone Star State. I will be spending the remaining part of May getting ready for some upcoming speaking appointments. I will be holding a gospel meeting at Rupert, Idaho next month, then to the Teton Family Encampment in July, then to the Yellowstone Bible Camp in August, then we will have our Graduate Reunion, then.... well, I'll stop there before I get exhausted again. Thank you one and all for your financial assistance to this good work.
