DURANGO Intern Report

November, 2013

New Intern Arrives In January

We are again excited about the arrival of another man who wants to train with us. Jonathan Maner will graduate in December from the Brown Trail School of Preaching, marry Hanna Fowler on January 4 and then arrive in Durango to begin his training on January 14. He and Hanna will occupy the little house behind our building where David Malley presently lives. The residence is small, but the Maners are real troopers and will accommodate themselves to the quarters for the eighteen months they will be with us. Having the housing furnished by the church here in Durango has saved us thousands of dollars that will enable us to continue the effort for many years.

Jon has been a good student at Brown Trail

Jon Maner and Hanna Fowler will become husband and wife on January 4 and will enter our training program on January 14.

and we anticipate good things coming from his work with us.

Thanks to all of you for making this work possible. We give glory to God for what is being accomplished in this effort. We pray for your continued prosperity as you serve the Lord.

What's Going On...

David Malley has accepted an invitation to move to Moab, Utah to work with the congregation there. Also, one of our other graduates, Kenny Garcia, will also be moving to Moab next year to work with David as a team. The two are excited to be able to work together since they have been friends for a long time. Since the congregation in Moab is small, David must raise some support. If you know of any congregation or individuals that might be interested in supporting David, then you may contact him at our address. We have for the past month or so been working with David on organizing his lessons for his first ministry and helping with his preparation. David will graduate on December 15.

Jess Simpson continues to do well with his assignments and is now preparing to teach the Wednesday night class when David has completed his work on the Parables. Jess and katie are hosting a "game night" at their house this week.

I will be in a gospel meeting at Baldwin City, Kansas this month. At the Linder Road Lectures last month, one of our graduates, James Williams, gave some outstanding lessons from the gospel of John. Another graduate, Mark Collins, filled in at the last minute for a speaker who had to return home. One of the elders at Linder Road said, "He hit a home run with his lesson." I couldn't have been more proud of these men.
