Another Day?

My life has been moving at "warp speed" lately which forces me into doing some routine activities hurriedly... which usually results in mistakes. I'm attempting to keep our web-site up to date so I put our church calendar on the site every month. After posting the November calendar it was brought to my attention that I had given the month 31 days instead of 30. I quickly corrected the mistake and took away the additional day... what power I felt to be able to remove a day!

It occurred to me that it would be great if I could just give us all another day. I could sure use an additional 24 hours. Yet, what would we do with that extra day? Many random thoughts come to mind... catch up on sleep? chores? get ahead on projects? watch TV? Aside from these worldly pursuits, the spiritual possibilities of an additional day are equally limitless.

God, of course, gives us the days of our life and He has not promised additional days. There will be no November 31 this year... or any other year. In fact, He hasn't even promised TOMORROW to any of us (James 2:13-17). The best we can do is to use the only day we really have to His glory... and that is TODAY!
